Student Wellbeing Matters:
How Can Academic Educators Support Student Mental Health?

A national symposium hosted by the University of Melbourne in collaboration with La Trobe University and Queensland University of Technology.

This national symposium will stimulate conversation on the role of academic educators in supporting student mental health and wellbeing. National and international speakers will share insights and lead a discussion of strategies for designing curriculum and creating teaching and learning environments that can support student mental health and enhance learning.

This symposium is an outcome of the OLT funded project: Enhancing Student Wellbeing. A report on symposium outcomes will be published on the project website, http://melbourne-cshe.unimelb.edu.au/research/experience/enhancing-student-wellbeing.
